

Pipe portals are a common entity on the roof. They allow pipes of different sizes and materials to safely and effectively pass through the roof in to the building with no water concerns...unless they are not properly installed, cut, or completed...

Always check your pipe portals after the installation of each pipe. Make sure that they are using the correct strap and they are installed tight

